

The federal government's influence on local education policies - with the "carrot on a stick" funding through the enactment of the 1965 Elementary & Secondary Education Act - has been the force behind the destruction of an education system that was so exceptional it put a man on the moon.

Learning to Teach Mathematics for Social Justice: Negotiating Social Justice and Mathematical Goals

Tanya Goss Bartlett
University of Delaware

This article describes teachers' collective work aimed at learning to teach mathematics for social justice. A situated sociocultural perspective of learning guides this examination of teachers' negotiation of mathematical goals and social justice goals as they developed, implemented, and revised lessons for social justice. Teacher interviews, discussions, lessons, and written reflections were analyzed using grounded theory methodology, and teachers' conversations were examined concerning the relationship between mathematical goals and social justice goals. Analysis revealed that early lessons arose around balancing these goals, that teachers focused more attention on the social justice component, and that the negotiation of these goals is an ongoing process.

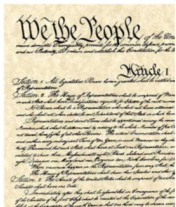

SOCIAL JUSTICE MATH? The National Council of Teachers of Math has decided that teaching equity and justice in math is more important than teaching math skills.

Common Core math: $3 \times 4 = 11$. Teachers are being trained to accept an incorrect answer because "what matters is not the right answer, but a good explanation of the 'reasoning' behind whatever answer the child chooses to give." Is it "RIGOR" or an intentional effort to confuse, discourage, and frustrate our children when it comes to learning their basic math concepts?

PHONICS READING vs Look/Say, Whole Word, Whole Language: For centuries early readers successfully learned how to "decipher the code" of language with phonics. But that changed with "whole word" instruction - memorizing the "picture" of the word - that is widely used in public schools today. Rudolf Flesch, author of Why Johnny Can't Read (1955) wrote: "The teaching of reading in the United States flies in the face of all logic and common sense." He explained that by the 1930s,... America's reading teachers abandoned the alphabetic code and began to teach children to guess and memorize the meanings of the tens of thousands of words they would see in print. "What I suggested," Flesch said, "was very simple: go back to the ABCs. Teach children the 44 sounds of English and how they are spelled." Then they can sound out each word from left to right and read it off the page." This is known as phonics-first instruction, which many school systems have abandoned explaining why so many children struggle with reading.

Anti-Christian Bias / Revisionist History: According to the National Council for Social Studies standards, "...the dominant...trends that have defined the western world for five centuries are rapidly leading in new directions." The "dominant trend" they refer to was the Judeo/Christian worldview. Rather than defend and protect these founding ideals, they explain the new mission: "The United States and its democracy are constantly evolving and in continuous need of citizens who can adapt... Meeting that need is the mission of the social studies." Our founders are censored and their words are twisted to meet the new standards. Children will never learn, for example, that Ben Franklin (one of the least religious founders) called on Congress to open every session with prayer stating, "If a sparrow cannot fall to the ground without His notice, is it probable that an empire can rise without His aid?" Likewise, you won't find Noah Webster's history schoolbook, which states: "Our citizens should early understand that the genuine source of correct republican principles is the Bible, particularly the New Testament or the Christian religion." Instead, mainstream textbooks conform to the new standards to teach such nonsense as, "Enlightenment thinkers in the American Colonies were excited. Here they were, the first people in history to have the chance to create an entirely new government based on Enlightenment Principles." Our children are being indoctrinated away from all things Christian – including our own Heritage! Karl Marx said "Take away the heritage of a people, and they are easily persuaded."

CURSIVE writing and the CONSTITUTION: Not only is there very little in-depth study of the constitution in our schools so our children learn about their protected God given rights, but now many school districts are eliminating the teaching of cursive writing as well. The inability to read cursive will result in a nation having to trust that the typed translation is accurate. The founding fathers knew that reading and understanding the constitution was necessary to preventing a tyrannical government.

TEACHING EVOLUTION: Evolution used to be taught along with creationism allowing the students to draw their own conclusions. Unbeknownst to Christian parents, their children are bullied into accepting evolution as scientific fact against their Biblical beliefs.

EARTH DAY CELEBRATIONS: Our children aren't allowed to say a prayer in school or celebrate the Christian holidays, but celebrating this United Nations inspired pagan holiday every April is just fine. Schools participate not knowing the true history or intent... the worship of the earth and the earth mother, Gaia, rather than worshipping God, the creator of the earth.

OUTCOME BASED EDUCATION is not education. It is social engineering that uses behavior modification and values clarification to control the level of knowledge acquired while changing attitudes, behaviors, beliefs, and values.

VALUES CLARIFICATION via Health Ed / Death Ed / Alcohol Ed/ Drug Ed / Sex Ed. These programs generally don't teach "thou shalt not..." but instead teach our children how to avoid the consequences of bad behavior related to sex, drugs, alcohol, and smoking. The evidence shows that rates of teen violence, suicides, sexual activity, abortions, STDs, and drug and alcohol abuse have all risen since these programs started showing up in our nation's schools in the 60s.

"ANTI-BULLYING," "Diversity," or "Anti-Bigotry and Racism," are school programs promoted by the federal government as necessary for the well being of our children. But, in reality these courses promote atheism, homosexuality, and disrespect of parents and their values.

Many of these programs are taught under the guise of HEALTH EDUCATION starting in kindergarten. These classes include "nosy" surveys asking our children about their personal and family lifestyles including smoking, sexual activity, and drug use.

DATA COLLECTION, which includes this private information, has been encouraged for decades by the federal government in order to "assess" the OUTCOME BASED EDUCATION.

The Five Pillars of Islam

is taught in many textbooks but parents
WILL NOT find the teaching of the Ten Commandments.

ANTI-Christian / PRO-Islam

Many social studies and history textbooks omit essential information when teaching the world's religions that results in negative assumptions of Judaism and Christianity in favor of Islam.

Typical is Prentice Hall's World History, which devotes a 72-page chapter to Islam and only small paragraphs about Judaism and Christianity which many times are negative.

From McDougal Littell's World Cultures and Geography:
"Sometimes Native Americans ... were forced to become Christian against their will."

You will not find any negative information in today's textbooks about the horrors of Islam and their treatment of women and children within their culture.

IndoctriNation

This film warns Christians about the subversive and anti-Christian nature of the American education system and calls on all Christians to participate in a mass exodus from government education for the sake of their children and the future of America. Watch preview at:

Common Core Approved Pornography

The Bluest Eye is on the Common Core's list of exemplar texts for 11th graders and is highly recommended reading. This book is just one of many books of concern for the anti-Christian and anti-American values. Many books on the exemplar list for K-12 include extremely explicit sex scenes describing incest, rape, and pedophilia. Many promote socialism over capitalism and diminish American exceptionalism.

The Bluest Eye

This textbook, full of graphic images, is currently being used in some public schools for 10-year olds. Promoted and administered by Planned Parenthood, this is the mandated Sex Ed curriculum aligned to the Common Core state standards. Sex Ed courses in "health classes", which start in kindergarten, are mandated in all states and now many include the MANDATED teaching of alternate sexual lifestyles. Parents are reporting that they are NOT ALLOWED to opt out their children from the teaching that there is "no right or wrong."

The mission of Operation Jericho Project is to encourage pastors and leaders to raise awareness with parents in their congregations or communities about what their children are exposed to every day due to the indoctrination of the federal government educational system.
